Wilmington College Mission Statement

The purpose of Wilmington College is to educate, inspire, and prepare each student for a life of success and service.

To fulfill that purpose, Wilmington College provides a high quality undergraduate and graduate education shaped by the traditions of the liberal arts, career preparation, and the distinctive values of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). By offering academic programs, practical experience, and co-curricular activities in a variety of settings to students from diverse backgrounds, the College leads students to gain an awareness of the world, to acquire knowledge of career and vocation, and to seek truth and social justice.

In keeping with the rich heritage of the liberal arts, the College seeks to educate the whole person – intellectual, emotional, physical, and spiritual – in ways that foster critical thinking, reflection, the free exchange of ideas, open inquiry, tolerance, and a desire for lifelong learning. The liberal arts are integrated with career preparation to help students develop the knowledge and skills to succeed in a career or further education.

As an academic community, Wilmington College is rooted in historic Quaker values that include integrity, service, simplicity, equality, peace and social justice, and respect for all persons. These values motivate those who learn and work at Wilmington College to make positive contributions to their professions and their communities.

Wilmington College Vision Statement

Wilmington College intends to make significant progress in the next decade toward being a model career-oriented liberal arts college. To move toward this vision, Wilmington will:

- integrate career preparation with the traditions of the liberal arts;
- challenge students to bring the Quaker values of integrity, service, peace and social justice, and respect for all persons into their lives, communities and workplaces;
- promote every student's participation in internship, community service, and international study programs;
- create an environment of civility, respect and trust; and
- demonstrate a commitment to this vision by placing the needs of students at the center of all decision-making.

Wilmington College Core Values

The following core values are fundamental to the success of Wilmington College in realizing its mission and vision. These values are inherited from the College's founding faith– The Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), from important traditions of American higher education, and from universally held beliefs that serve to guide the best in human thought and action.

Integrity – this value has been described as the value from which all other values emanate and has importance in this ordered list of values. Integrity as defined by the College community as the fundamental requirement to be fair, honest, and ethical in all dealings on campus and requires each of us to assume responsibility for our actions.

Community – this value is defined on campus as the desire to create in partnership a learning and working environment that supports and encourages a shared sense of purpose about the importance and value of broad participation, active engagement, open sharing of information, shared responsibility for decision making, and a culture that emphasizes continuous improvement and growth.

Diversity – this value is purposeful in guiding our willingness to recruit, retain and graduate a student body that reflects the global communities that the College serves and seeks to foster our understanding and appreciation of different people, cultures, and ideas.

Excellence – this value requires the College to support and encourage a commitment to the highest standards in all areas of the College's mission.

Peace and Social Justice – this value comes directly from our Quaker heritage and asks all members of the community to seek non-violent resolution of conflict and just treatment of the world's resources, both human and physical.

Respect for All Persons – this value is fundamental to the development of a peaceful and just community that values the dignity and worth of all persons.

Service and Civic Engagement – this value seeks to foster all members of the campus community to serve others and to accept individual responsibility for being an engaged and effective citizen.

Perspectives on Wilmington College

Quaker History and Heritage

Wilmington College was founded in 1870 by members of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). This affiliation continues today. The members of the Board of Trustees, the college’s governing body, are selected by the Wilmington Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends. In addition, Wilmington Yearly Meeting offices are located on campus in the Kelly Religious Center, named after Thomas R. Kelly, an alumnus and prominent Quaker writer.

The first College building, College Hall, was built in 1866, as the site of Franklin College, a non-sectarian institution which went out of existence in 1869. The building was sold to the Quakers in 1870, marking the birth of Wilmington College.

Through the years Wilmington College has grown from that small beginning to its present status as one of Ohio’s respected private, liberal arts colleges. Here learning is combined with practical application, values are as important as facts, and students and faculty regard each other as persons, not names and numbers.

Quaker traditions are important to the Wilmington campus atmosphere. Their influence is felt in the personal working relationships among members of the College community and in the concern for each individual. Students, faculty, administration, and staff are addressed by names rather than titles. This reflects Quaker values of mutuality and equality.

Decisions at Wilmington College are not reached by voting. Rather, the group seeks for a plan of action upon which all can unite. This approach to problem solving, based on consensus, reflects a Quaker approach to business and can be seen operating in almost any group meeting on campus, from the trustees to faculty-staff meetings to small informal committees. Many student groups also follow this way of decision-making.

College programs on and off campus also reflect Quaker traditions and concerns. Friends have founded 12 liberal arts colleges in the United States. Historically, Friends have been concerned with careers involving practical skills, such as agriculture and carpentry. The Wilmington combination of liberal arts and career preparation reflects Quaker interests in education.

Since the founding of the Religious Society of Friends in 17th century England, Friends have worked to end war and create a world of peace. The Peace Testimony continues to be a central witness of Quakerism. It is made visible at Wilmington College with the Peace Studies program, the annual Westheimer Peace Symposium, and the Peace Resource Center, which attracts scholars and visitors from around the world. The Center houses extensive materials on the atomic bombings of World War II. Its Hiroshima–Nagasaki Collection, related to the bombings of those cities, is the largest collection of this kind outside of Japan.

Quakers also have a long-standing interest in international education and international relations. The College academic program reflects this international emphasis in the general education program. International students from many different countries also reflect the hope that Wilmington College will help students develop a fuller understanding of world cultures and world issues.

Setting of Main Campus

Clinton County is a rural county, halfway between Cincinnati and Columbus. It offers the quiet serenity of its immediate environment coupled with urban excitement and cultural opportunities less than an hour's drive either north to Columbus or south to Cincinnati.

The College's is located less than half a mile east of the center of town. The College also owns, maintains, and utilizes a farm adjacent to campus to enhance and support the agriculture program and other related departments.

The main campus features 80 contiguous acres as the central location for most academic, residential, administrative and athletic facilities and another 1,248 acres of farmland associated with the College's academic program in agriculture. The main campus includes 12 academic buildings, eight residential facilities and seven other buildings for administration, student life, maintenance and other uses.

All necessary documents, including academic records, and proof of English language proficiency, must be received before an admission decision can be made.

Academic Integrity Policy

This policy is directly related to the first Testimony, which is part of the Student Code of Conduct, "I will practice personal and academic integrity." The College believes it is important that students develop high ethical and scholarly standards, accept responsibility for maintaining these standards, and encourage mutual trust and respect among all members of the academic community.

While affirming these standards of academic integrity, the College acknowledges that students do not always uphold those standards and thus there must be a clear and fair method of dealing with violations of that integrity. Community members who are willing to discourage academic misconduct not only help others assume a higher degree of personal integrity, but by assuming responsibility for the community's welfare also develop their own capabilities as responsible leaders. Faculty and students share the responsibility for creating an environment that encourages academic integrity.

Graduate Programs Academic Policy Procedure

Graduate academic policies will be reviewed and approved by the Graduate Committee.

The Graduate committee will follow the applicable/analogous approval patterns established for APC as outlined above (e.g. deadlines, VPAA approval, faculty meeting approval, etc.).

The clerk of APC, the VPAA, the clerk of Assessment Committee and the Clerk of Standards and Appeals Committee serve on the Graduate Committee to ensure policies and procedures area aligned between undergraduate and graduate programs.

A faculty member from the Graduate Program serves as the Graduate Representative on the APC to provide assurance that policies and procedures are aligned between undergraduate and graduate programs.

A. Examinations

To assure an environment that discourages academic misconduct, the following guidelines have been established for examinations (including in-class, take-home, etc.):

1. Students should not attempt to obtain unauthorized early copies of examinations or to question clerical personnel about the content of future examinations.
2. Whenever space allows, sit in alternate seats or separate the chairs in the room.
3. Use no notes, papers, or books unless specified exceptions are made by the instructor.
4. Direct all questions to the instructor rather than to other students.
5. Come to the class equipped with pens, pencils, paper, and other materials so that borrowing or leaving the room during the examination will not be necessary.
6. Faculty members may choose to remain in the classroom, have someone else proctor the exam, or leave it un-proctored.
7. Students who knowingly permit another student to copy their answers in an examination may be charged with academic misconduct, along with the person who has cheated. Students who observe cheating during an examination should alert the faculty member as to what is going on. At that point, handling of the offense becomes the primary responsibility of the instructor, who must protect the rights of both the accused and the reporter. The faculty member should follow the procedures specified in Section C below.

Final Exam Policy (policy from faculty handbook)

Examinations must be given during the scheduled examination period at the end of each semester. A student may take a final at a different time only if an emergency situation or special circumstances at the time provide a need for a change. Students who think they have special reason to ask for a special examination should pick up a form at the Office of Academic Records, take it to the instructor for approval and have it countersigned by the Office of Academic Affairs/VPAA. No instructor is authorized to provide a special exam without this form.

Students scheduled to take three or more final examinations on one day may request to arrange their examination schedule, so no more than two exams occur on one day. Any student who wishes to reschedule a final examination for some other reason must file a written request on a form

EARLY OR LATE EXAMS: Prior to the scheduled exam period, the Academic Dean/Dean of Faculty and the instructor must give written approval on the Early/Late Exam form available in the Office of Academic Records and on WC portal.

Academic Integrity Policy

Students should consult the Student Handbook for policies regarding academic integrity issues including, but not limited to, guidelines for examinations, plagiarism, classroom behavior, and handling academic misconduct charges.

B. Plagiarism

Every scholarly activity depends on someone's previous work, and where credit for that work can be specifically given, it should be given. Most people would understandably resent their own ideas being used without acknowledgment. Writers should accord the same respect to others that they would consider fair for themselves.

To quote from Practical English Handbook (Watkins, Dillingham and Martin, 1978, 260): "Using others' words and ideas as if they were your own is a form of stealing called plagiarism." In academic or scholarly writing, plagiarism offends the community of learning as seriously as does cheating on an examination. Developing the habit of giving appropriate credit to others for their ideas is important not only in school but in all other professional and life situations. Following are some guidelines for avoiding plagiarism:

To quote Practical English Handbook again (260–262): "Even when you take only a phrase or a single unusual word from a passage, you should enclose it in quotation marks." You may quote words, phrases, clauses, sentences or even whole paragraphs. Generally, you should quote a sentence or a paragraph only when a writer has phrased something especially well and when you need to supply all the information given.

"In paraphrasing you are expressing the ideas of another writer in your own words. A good paraphrase preserves the sense of the original, but not the form. It does not retain the sentence patterns and merely substitutes synonyms for the original words, nor does it retain the original words and merely alter the sentence patterns. It is a genuine restatement. Invariably it should be briefer than the source...If the source has stated the idea more concisely than you can, you should quote, not paraphrase."

If you are in doubt about footnote form, quoting, or paraphrasing (stating another writer's idea in your own words—this kind of borrowing also requires a footnote), ask your instructor for information and a format. Most footnotes include at least the author's name; the title of the article, essay, story, etc.; the title of the book; the place of publication and publisher; the date of publication; and the page number. The general guideline is that the reader should be able to find, without much difficulty, the source and the page from which you extracted the idea or quotation.

Some instances of plagiarism are the result of ignorance rather than dishonesty. When plagiarism is encountered, the instructor should be sure that the student knows proper procedures for attributing ideas. However, when the infraction seems deliberate, the faculty member should follow the procedures specified in Section C below.

Artificial Intelligence

Using AI-generated text or images without proper citation is academic dishonesty. Wilmington College defines plagiarism as “submitting work done wholly or partly by another,” and that remains true even if the other is an AI model and not another student or author of a published article.

C. Handling Academic Misconduct Charges

Faculty members will deal with cases of academic misconduct within five working days after discovering the offense. The goal is for faculty to confront academic integrity concerns, teach ethical behavior, and provide escalating consequences based on the severity and frequency of cases. Determination of academic misconduct, the severity of each case, and classroom consequences are the responsibility and purview of the Graduate Committee.

Minor Offense: Verbally address the matter with the student if possible and notify the Program Director. A minor offense will result in the student’s name being recorded for future reference.

Moderate Offense: Verbally address the matter with the student if possible and notify the Program Director. Two minor offenses OR a case deemed so by the faculty member involved will be a moderate offense. The second stage will result in a letter in the student’s permanent file and a discussion moderated by the Office of Academic Affairs. The letter will identify the offense and the sanction.

Major Offense: Verbally address the matter with the student if possible and notify the Program Director. A major offense is defined as two moderate offenses OR a case deemed so by the faculty member involved. The student will face the Graduate Committee and abide by their sanctions (typically disciplinary probation, loss of privileges, discretionary sanctions, suspension, dismissal).

See program specific handbooks for policies on probation, suspension and dismissal.

Academic Probation, Suspension, Withdrawal, & Suspension

See graduate program student handbooks for policies and procedures related to specific graduate programs.

Readmission after Suspension

Readmission is not automatic and depends on the student's circumstances as determined by the Graduate Committee. If readmission is granted, the student will be readmitted on probation.

Academic Appeals & Grievances

Students can appeal allegations to the Graduate Committee at any time. Because the VPAA hears appeals of the committee’s decisions, the VPAA will not participate in these hearings.

Any student who has a grievance regarding assignment of grades or other issues related to classroom interaction and performance is advised to first meet with his/her instructor concerning the matter. If the difficulties are not resolved as a result of meeting with the relevant faculty member, the student is encouraged to contact the Program Director with the concern. If the problem is not resolved at this level, the issue may be brought to the Graduate Committee for resolution.

Students who wish to appeal a grade, after talking with the instructor and the Program Director, may complete the Wilmington College – Grade Appeal form which is available in the Office of Academic Records or on WC Portal.

Grade appeals must be submitted no later than 30 days from the posting of grades.

Students may appeal to the Graduate Committee to drop or add a class after the final drop or add date, change a grade, extend the final date to submit work for an incomplete grade, appeal a charge of academic misconduct. All appeals must be submitted to the Office of Academic Affairs in writing. Students may secure the petition to Academics Standards and Appeals from the Office of Academic Affairs, Office of Academic Records or on the WC Portal.

Students should complete the form giving particular attention to the rationale for the appeal while making sure to include pertinent facts. Supporting documents, such as syllabi, tests, papers, and statements from a physician or a professor, may be attached. Students should seek assistance from a Faculty member if necessary, particularly if the professor does not make the requested materials available. If in addition to the written appeal the student wishes to appear before the Graduate Committee, the student must notify the Office of Academic Affairs to arrange a time at the next available Graduate Committee meeting.

The Academic Standards and Appeals Committee may prohibit testimony that is irrelevant or redundant. It will consider all appeals in a timely manner and will notify students in writing after the conclusion of all deliberations.

Typically, a grade appeal takes a minimum of one month to cycle through the various offices where responses and signatures are required before the grade appeal can be presented to the Committee.

F. Administrative Appeals

Administrative appeals are reviewed and acted upon by the Chief Academic Officer in consultation with Faculty and, depending on the appeal, other administrators. Often, an administrative appeal is a request for variance in the general education requirements or an hour requirement for graduation. Administrative appeal forms are available in the Office of Academic Affairs, the Student One Stop Center, or the Office of Academic Records.

Addendum

Academic Misconduct - October 2024

Appendix 1.18: Handling Academic Misconduct

ACADEMIC CODE OF CONDUCT

This policy is directly related to the first Testimony, which is part of the Student Code of Conduct. "I will practice personal and academic integrity." The initial responsibility for dealing with academic misconduct lies with the individual faculty member in whose classroom or course of study the offense occurs. The responsibility includes determination of the consequences for the offense. The goal is for faculty to confront cheating and plagiarism, to teach ethical behavior, and to provide an appropriate consequence based on the nature of the incident. Faculty are encouraged to explicitly address academic misconduct and its consequences in the course syllabus.

EXAMPLES OF ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

A. Examination offenses include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Taking unauthorized materials into or out of the examination room.
2. Leaving the examination room without authorization before completing an examination.
3. Talking in the examination room without authorization.
4. Discussing the examination outside the examination room during the course of the examination.
5. Attempting to observe the work of another student.
6. Taking an examination for another person or permitting someone else to do so.
7. Collaborating improperly by discussion, joint research, or joint effort in any way expressly prohibited by the instructor. This includes using a cell phone or other device to access information from another source or another student.
8. Improper knowledge of contents of an examination – No student shall knowingly acquire unauthorized knowledge of an examination or any part of an examination, or solicit, offer, or give information about any part of an examination.

B. Student work offenses include, but are not limited to, the following, which are expressly prohibited in the absence of prior written approval of the instructor or instructors involved:

1. Resubmission of work – Submitting work which has been previously submitted for credit.
2. Plagiarism – Submitting work done wholly or partly by another, including the unattributed copying of all or parts of a published work or internet document. Using generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) sources to produce work (when not expressly permitted) is also a form of plagiarism. Some instances of plagiarism are the result of ignorance rather than dishonesty. When plagiarism is encountered, the instructor should be sure that the student knows proper procedures for attributing content.

3. Prohibited sources – Consulting material or persons contrary to the directions of the instructor.

4. Improper collaboration – Engaging in any discussion, joint research, or joint effort of any kind expressly prohibited by the instructor.

5. Deception – Misrepresenting the authenticity of sources, citations, or principles in any written work.

6. Sharing work – Students who share their work with others are responsible for how that work is used. For example, if a student shares a paper with another student to help him or her understand an assignment, and that student submits the work as their own, the author of the paper shares responsibility for the plagiarism committed by the other student.

D. Other misconduct – Engaging in any other improper conduct as specified by the instructor.

E. Lying – deliberately providing false information relevant to academic matters, such as misrepresenting the inability to take an examination because of illness.

F. Disruptive or disrespectful classroom behavior – causing a disturbance in the classroom, interrupting instruction, speaking rudely or threatening students or faculty.

GUIDELINES FOR HANDLING ACADEMIC OFFENSES

1. Confront the student within ten working days of knowledge of the incident when the college is in session, or within the ten days of the start of the next semester.

2. Determine if the offense is substantiated. Also, determine if the offense falls under the “plagiarism” category (defined under B.2 above) or not.

3. Document incident and consequence in writing (letter or email) and send to student. Ideally, the course syllabus should provide a statement related to academic misconduct and its consequences.

4. Submit a copy of the letter or email sent to student to Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs (AVPAA). If the offense is deemed to fall under the “plagiarism” category, then explicitly indicate this in the letter/email. The faculty member may email the student or send a letter to the student’s campus or home address. The Office of Academic Affairs will maintain a copy of this letter in the student’s file for reference should additional incidents of academic misconduct occur.

If the offense is deemed to fall under the “plagiarism” category (defined under B.2 above), then proceed to steps 8–10 below. If it is not deemed “plagiarism”, then proceed with steps 5–7 below.

5. The Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs will meet with the student and review the Academic Misconduct Policy. If the student has no prior incidence of academic misconduct, no further action will be taken.

6. If the student has committed a prior offense, the student must appear before the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee (ASA). The student may also be required to appear before the committee if the faculty member and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs determine the offense is serious enough to warrant additional review.

7. Any additional consequences will be determined by the ASA. Consequences could include academic probation, ineligibility for academic honors, or suspension.

8. For a first violation of the "plagiarism" type, the instructor will decide if this violation is of a minor or major type. This determination is up to the instructor's discretion. If the plagiarism violation is "minor", then the instructor will abstain from grading the assignment and ask the student to redo and resubmit it in their own words/work. Once resubmitted, the assignment will be graded. If a student refuses to redo the assignment or does not complete it in the allowed time, then the instructor is free to give the student a zero for the work.

If the plagiarism violation is deemed "major", then the violation will be treated per the instructions in step 9 below.

9. For a second infraction of plagiarism, or for a "major" plagiarism violation, the student must take and pass the Plagiarism Workshop, which is an approximately 4-hour, non-credit-bearing course. For a second infraction or a major infraction, the grade for the assignment will be at the instructor's discretion.

10. If a student does not pass the Plagiarism Workshop course within the designated time period, or has additional infractions of Academic Misconduct, then those offenses would be directed to the process outlined in steps 6 and 7 above (referral to the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee).

STUDENT APPEAL PROCESS

If a student wishes to appeal the charge of academic misconduct and/or the sanctions for the offense, he/she may do so in writing within five (5) school days of receipt of the letter or email from the faculty member. Students should send their appeal in writing (letter or email) to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. A hearing will be set in front of the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee in as timely a manner as possible.

Students who appear before the committee on appeal may be assisted by a support person, who may be any member of the college community or a parent. Students are responsible for presenting their own case; however, the support person is permitted to speak and should assist the student in understanding the academic appeals process. Hearings will be confidential. Admission of any person to the hearing who is not a support person, or a witness shall be at the discretion of the Committee. The Committee may restrict testimony that is irrelevant or redundant.

Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as evidence at the discretion of the Committee. There shall be a single verbatim record, such as an audio recording of all hearings before the Committee. The appealing student shall have access to a record of the hearing. All recordings are destroyed either after appeals are completed or after the time allotted for appeals has passed.

After the hearing, the Committee shall determine (by consensus) whether the level of academic offense and/or the sanctions should be decreased. Review of the level of academic offense and/or sanctions may not result in a more severe level of offense or sanction. The Committee may render its decision without deference to the faculty member's initial determination.

Students who are required to appear before the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee due to a second offense (or a serious first offense) may also appeal the committee's decision to the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA)/Dean of the Faculty under the circumstances outlined below.

FINAL REVIEW

Final appeals may be made to the Vice President for Academic Affairs/Dean of the Faculty within five (5) school days of the decision of the Academic Standards and Appeals Committee. An appeal to the VPAA/Dean of the Faculty is only appropriate under at least one of the following conditions:

- The original hearing was not conducted fairly in light of the charges and evidence presented, and in conformity with prescribed procedures.
- The decision was not based on substantial evidence.
- The sanction imposed was not appropriate for the violation.
- There is new evidence that was not presented at the original hearing.

Appendix 1.9: Syllabus Form

Faculty members at Wilmington College are not required to use any specific form for syllabus preparation. However, the following information must be included in all syllabi. A copy of your syllabi must be sent to the Office of Academic Affairs and your Area Coordinator each semester. A sample syllabus template is available on the Academic Affairs page of WC@ Home.

General Information

Program Overview (M.O.L.)

The Master of Organizational Leadership (MOL) is designed to build leadership, interpersonal, and organizational skills, while also strengthening the emotional intelligence and critical thinking skills that working students are already using in their professional lives. Courses are research driven with a stress on independent learning at the graduate level.

The MOL program has a common core of courses, consisting of 15 semester hours. The core courses are designed to cover content that is vital to understanding organizations and business practices at the graduate level.

In addition to the core courses, students pursue a MOL track. The track can consist of 15 – 18 semester hours. The Organizational Transformation (OT) track is the first MOL track that is being offered at Wilmington College. It consists of 18 semester hours. Besides refining and developing the skills listed above, the OT track includes a mindfulness approach that is integrated across the track curriculum and that is intended to increase self-awareness and build the capacity for empathy, compassion, and ethical action.

The Immersive Learning Experience is the cornerstone of the MOL program. Students are expected to engage with a social justice organization throughout the program and contribute their expertise in developing plans that will assist the organization. Social justice organizations can include: (1) the external projects of for-profit companies engaged in and supporting community improvement or service projects, and (2) any not for profit that provides support for individuals or groups of individuals in overcoming obstacles in life. Given the intensity of the experience, students become involved with a social justice organization early in the program.

Most courses are offered online synchronously. Fifty percent of the synchronous online courses offer an option to attend the meeting in the classroom with the instructor while other students attend online. Online synchronous courses require that you attend the live online synchronous sessions during the scheduled meeting times indicated in your course schedule and in the course syllabus.

Some courses will be accelerated (8 weeks) and some will be full-semester courses (16 weeks). The program can be completed on a part-time or full-time basis.

Program Specific Policies

Probation (M.O.L.)

Students who do not maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better during a semester will be placed on academic probation for the following semester. Students who return their grade point average to the required status by the conclusion of the probationary semester will be returned to academic good standing.

Students admitted into the program on probation must earn a 3.0 cumulative GPA the semester in which they were admitted. They are required to meet with the MOL Program Director a minimum of two times throughout the semester to ensure progress toward expectations. Students earning a minimum of a cumulative GPA of 3.0 by the conclusion of the semester will be considered in academic good standing.

Students who do not meet the expectations of probation are suspended. A student who has been suspended for academic or other reasons may make a written appeal to the Graduate Committee. Students should consult with the Graduate Program Director regarding this appeal process.

Academic Suspension and Dismissal (M.O.L.)

A student whose grade point average for any given semester falls below 2.0 will be suspended for the following semester. A student who has been suspended for academic or other reasons may make a written appeal to the Graduate Committee.

If the Graduate Committee rules favorably on the appeal, the student will be allowed to remain on academic probation for an additional semester.

If the Graduate Committee denies the appeal, the committee can decide one of two things:

1. The Graduate Committee can dismiss the student. Students who are dismissed are not eligible to request readmission to the program.
2. The Graduate Committee can place the student on suspension with the possibility of reapplying to the program. Students should consult with the Graduate Program Director regarding the readmission application process.

Governing Catalog Requirements (M.O.L.)

Students must meet the graduation requirements described in a single edition of the Graduate Studies Catalog. Normally, this is the catalog for the year they enter Wilmington College as degree-seeking students. Students may opt to follow all the degree requirements of subsequent catalogs if they desire, but these requirements must be followed in their entirety. Students whose educational programs at Wilmington College have been interrupted for more than three years must follow the requirements in effect at the time of their readmission to the College.

Attendance (M.O.L.)

Regular and timely attendance and active participation is an expectation of all students in the program. Students are also responsible for independently managing assignments and meeting all deadlines. If a class is missed for any reason, the student will be held accountable for all material covered. Students will also be held accountable for requesting and scheduling meetings with their instructors/faculty advisors when needing support or assistance of any kind.

If a student is unable to attend class, they must email the instructor prior to the scheduled class time to notify the instructor of the reason for the absence. If the pattern continues the student can expect that such behavior will be reflected in their course grade.

Program Progression (M.O.L.)

All graduate program coursework must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher before the student may graduate. Students who do not pass a course may be delayed in their progress towards a degree due to pre-requisite and co-requisite requirements within the curriculum. While matriculating through the program students are required to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 out of 4.0 and no course credit will be given when a student earns a grade of F.

Occupational Therapy Grading System

%	Grade
90-100	A
80-89	B
< 80	F

Please note: A minimum of a "B" is required to pass a class in Occupational Therapy.

If the student does not receive a minimum of a "B" in the course, he/she will have one opportunity to re-take the course and pass it when it is offered in the next year to continue to progress through the program. Two failures may result in dismissal.

Academic Policies

Students in the MSOT Program may be at risk for probation, suspension, or dismissal from the program if academic and behavioral expectations are not met.

Probation

Students who enter the program in a cohort remain with that cohort until graduation. Each semester of the program is a pre-requisite for the next semester. Students who do not meet behavioral or attendance policies, or who are at-risk for course failure as evidenced by a midterm grade below 80 will be required to meet with their faculty advisor a minimum of two times during the remainder of the semester to develop a remediation plan and to monitor progress toward expectations. Students earning a minimum grade of 80 or above ("B") by the conclusion of the semester will be considered in academic good standing.

Students who initially required a remediation plan who demonstrate consistent follow-through with the established remediation plan will be considered in good standing at the conclusion of the semester and will be permitted to proceed to the next semester.

Suspension

A student can be suspended from the program for not meeting the minimum pass rates and/or for failed compliance with the remediation plan. Once a student is suspended from the MSOT program, the student must "sit out" a year and is permitted to retake failed coursework the following year when the course(s) is scheduled.

A minimum of a "B" is required to pass a class in the MSOT program. If the student does not receive a minimum of a "B" in the course(s), the student will have one opportunity to re-take the course(s) and pass it when it is offered in the next year to continue progression through the program. A student will not be permitted to sit out of the program a second time for any reason.

Dismissal

Dismissal from the program prohibits students from re-entering and graduating from the WC MSOT Program. A course may only be repeated once. Two failures of the same course will result in dismissal from the program. This also includes Fieldwork placements. Fieldwork I placements are embedded within each OT practice course (OT 550, OT 572, OT 650), therefore, if a student fails a FW I experience they will follow the procedures outlined above in the "Suspension" section. Students who fail FW IIA or FW IIB will have ONE opportunity to re-take the fieldwork prior to dismissal from the program.

Program Specific Policies

All other Policies, specific to the program can be found in the WC MSOT Student Handbook and the WC MSOT Student Fieldwork Handbook distributed to students at orientation.

MSOT Credit Hours

MSOT program course credits are divided into either lecture or lab credit. The credit hour to workload ratio is 1:1 for lecture credits, and 1:2 for lab credits. For each lecture credit, faculty provides 1 hour of structured teaching (960 minutes/16-week semester), and for each lab credit faculty provides 2 hours of structured teaching (1920 minutes/16-week semester). Following the example of a 3-credit course (1 credit lecture/2 credits lab), would equate to 5 hours of formalized instruction per week. Hours are proportionally adjusted for semesters with less than 16 weeks.

*See ODHE guidelines for further clarification on formalized instruction

Course Sequencing

*Courses that contain a Level I Fieldwork

The WC OT graduate program requires involvement in Level I fieldwork in semesters 2, 3, and 4. Level I FW experiences are intentionally embedded into the corresponding OT practice course to strengthen the ties between didactic and fieldwork education. Level I FW experiences follow a developmental curriculum design establishing psychosocial foundational knowledge prior to moving forward in the life span. (C.1.1.) Each Level I FW experience is 30–40 hours in length and no Level I experience can be substituted as a Level II experience. (C.1.9.)

The goals of Level I Fieldwork experiences are to analyze the practice area and client population to examine occupational therapy's role and apply acquired practice knowledge. Level I fieldwork experiences enhance student understanding of the curricular themes of evidence-based, occupation-based, and client-centered practice.
